

STUDIES IN AFRICAN LANGUAGES AND CULTURES

Studies in African Languages and Cultures (formerly known as Studies of the Department of African Languages and Cultures) is an academic journal published by the University of Warsaw Press. The journal is a forum for the publication of original works in various fields of African studies. Primarily focusing on African linguistics, including ethno- and sociolinguistics, it also covers African literature, African culture and history of Africa. It promotes research based on sources in African languages.

The SALC is an international, peer-reviewed, both printed and online journal that is published annually since 1984.

We invite original and unpublished research articles in English, but papers are occasionally accepted also in French and in German.

Submission: authors can submit their work at any time. In order to be considered for the current year issue, the Authors are invited to submit their contributions before March 31. The Authors are recommended to send their papers via Submission Form accessible at Journal's website www.salc.uw.edu.pl
